

Visiting Student Learning Opportunities™ (VSLO™) program for International Students to Apply to LNH&MC

The AAMC Visiting Student Learning Opportunities™ (VSLO®) program enables medical and public health students to pursue short-term learning opportunities in locations away from their home institutions. Program participants include medical and public health students and institutions in the U.S. and around the globe.

VSLO program comprises of more than 120 sending (Home) and receiving (Host) sites globally, located in 45 countries. Amongst which are some very prestigious institutions like Baylor College of Medicine, Yale School of Medicine, Boston University School of Medicine, University of Massachusetts Medical School etc.

Through the VSLO application service, students search for opportunities across the globe, learn about prerequisite requirements, upload supporting documents needed by the host institution, and seamlessly submit and track their applications.

To apply, submit application through VSLO application by searching our host name Liaquat National Hospital & Medical College for your preferred electives.

General Information:

- All Elective Clerkships are offered for Four weeks.
- Applicants 3rd to Final Year can apply for Clinical Electives.
- All application forms must be submitted 06 weeks prior to the start of the electives.
- Submission of an application does not guarantee confirmation of proposed electives.
- Selected students will be notified 04 weeks prior to the commencement of the requested elective/attachment program.
- Elective offer will stand Cancelled for selected students not joining on approved dates.
- After joining of the electives, neither the department will be changed nor will the fee be refunded.

For more information on VSLO, please visit the AAMC website.

Important: We are currently not accepting applications until further notice